NARRATIVE:

Flores, a documented gang member, has an extensive adult criminal history that began at the age of 21. His convictions include possession of a firearm by a felon, vehicle theft, multiple cases for resisting arrest, several violations of street gang injunctions, possession of drug paraphernalia and failing to report. He has served multiple state prison terms the longest a 16 month term for possession of a firearm by a felon. Flores was released from state prison to the supervision of the Los Angeles County Probation Department on March 31st, 2012. Under the Governor's Public Safety Realignment Act of 2011, better known as Assembly Bill 109 (AB 109) the responsibility of lower-level offenders was shifted from the State to Los Angeles County. He subsequently failed to report to his probation officer and an arrest warrant was issued in June 2014 after he absconded from post release community supervision (PRCS). Flores qualified to be released to the supervision of probation, under AB 109, because his current commitment offense for resisting arrest is defined as non-serious and non-violent under the California penal code. His criminal history, gang member status, and current failure to comply with the terms of release make him a most wanted. If you know his whereabouts please contact...
